I. INTRODUCTION

In today's trend of digitalization, we need everything on our fingertips, we have applications and softwares for almost each and everything. Now we have one for booking venues for celebrations too. CRAFTING EVENT is an application which allows you to book a banquet, restaurant, or any café for any kind of celebration. We don't need to go anywhere for book the place we can do it by sitting at home and by just one click us can get the required services. The basic function of this system is book event at the café. We provide customer choose their own theme for the event they planning. We also provide customized theme mode in which customer give description of their wanted theme and café would decorate event place using that description. We will also provide the facility of handmade craft item to present to star of the event like scrapbook, explosion box, bottle lamp etc. Also flowers, bouquets for occasion.

The user can submit their feedback, review and rating as per their experience.

II. LITERATURE REVIEW

Events are leisure activities and work possibilities for people. Event brings people together and makes them have good time. They enhance the quality of people's life; they can have provide significant economic benefits and can also provide revenue for special projects. Even before the application era, events were held and they were managed by the host itself or the event manager, and it used to be good enough. But our aim with this application is to provide the people their own event manager and also make them able to design their own celebration. There are several applications and software which provide the purpose of event management to the event manager. Some provide only booking the place and some provide the managerial tools which can track the progress of the work. It consist of to do/done lists to keep a clear record of what is done and what is left. Some applications also give the facility to arrange the table seat arrangement majorly for huge events such as enterprise events and tradeshows. Bookings are also made on social media accounts these days. Applications and events are promoted on Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, and other social media accounts and bookings are also available on the same platform, which becomes hustle free.

A website named Bookeventz has been established a few years ago and it provides all kinds of service a person might need in the preparation and gives the best option suitable for you. It has all the suitable options for venue, photographer, DJ, decorator etc. The client will have to then select date and time. This company also has an application but it's website is more famous rather than the application.

Now a days finding the place and booking for event in appropriate time is too difficult. Here we have found a different solution for that problem. We don't need to go anywhere for book the place we can do it by sitting at home and by just one click us can get the required services. Our motto with the developing of application to create a memorable moment for the customers. One way to make the customers happy is to provide the best décor and food so they will always remember. And the other way is to learn the customer is always right. Most of the businesses follow this rule to move forward and gain success. And they are successful and this is one of the many factors that affect the business in a good way. This application will provide venue, decors and best customizable options to match your thoughts. It is created for the people who make crafting items such woman's organizations. One representative will note all your key instructions and work accordingly with the designers to fulfill your idea of best celebration. This application also provides the feature of choosing your handmade gifts such as explosion box, scrap book, bottle art, popsicle photo frame etc. which are made by highly innovative and talented people. Also readymade gift items like teddy bears, artifacts, soft toys, and all kind of possible gifts that could be expected and needed by the host of the party. With this, we also provide flower arrangements and bouquets. So this application fulfills approximately all basic and exclusive needs of the customer.

III. METHODOLOGY

The application Crafting Event is an android application which allows to plan to decorate any event, considering your choices and your wishes. Our application is based on event planning and executing it well enough to our customers to stay satisfied.

This application runs the following way:

- User will have to signup the application to use its all features, if the user already has an account then the user can directly login.

- The client will have to then select date and time of their event.

- After choosing date and time, client will select from various options of event types to get the best further options.

- Then comes the venue selection process, where the application provides various options and the user has to select one of those.

- Then the user has to select theme. It is totally up to the user to select the kind of theme they like.

- The user can even design their own kind of theme and decoration by chatting with the admin side and an suggest their ideas and we try our best to fulfill each and every needs of the user.

- Now we also provide with gift articles which are both ready-made and handmade. This feature is optional and depends on the user, they can take a look and if they like our products, they can buy or not up to user.

- After completing all the process, the user will be asked for payment option, the user will have option to pay online or directly.

- Our application runs both admin and client side. The above process had to be followed by the client side but also the admin side and follows some specific steps as follows:

- When the client requests time and date for the event and place, the admin starts the hunt and responses immediately with the availability of the asked queries.

- Admin then helps find the perfect theme for the event and helps with other needs.

- When the user does not want any default theme and wants to customize their own, the admin talks to the customer via a chat window inside the application and help them with whatever they ask and need.

- If the needs of the customers are not available at that moment or not possible then the admin has the right to refuse the customer and provide other available and suitable options related to the requests.

- The admin can add, update, and delete any theme and venues according to time and situation.

The flowchart of our application is as follows:

IV. SPECIAL FEATURE

Our application is inspired by some applications and website which allow different things. They all had event management in common but some applications had some features and other had the other few. We instead made an application which provides all the features from those applications and websites at one single place- Crafting Event. Some of our special features include:

- Theme: Our application provides some predefined themes suitable for different functions and events. The user can select any theme or can choose to use our next best feature.

- Customizing theme: This is our main feature which allows the user to create their own decoration and designs. They can choose any default provided theme or they can also make their own.

- Gifts: Our application along with designing best events, also provides the user to buy gifts from our application itself. We provide with different gift articles which include both hand made gift articles and readymade gift articles. So now the gift shopping is also a few finger clicks away.

- Reminder: In further enhancement of the application we might be able to provide notification of the work done and then finally before the event. This system also notifies the customer next year before one week of the event date to remind you and if they want to make any future plans.

V. CONCLUSION

We have developed ─CRAFTING EVENT with great concern and have tried our best to implement as many as features to make it viable and usable. This system is a powerful and easy-to-use for the user in their day to day life. This System also provides the theme selection and handmade item selection option. This is the easiest way for the users. It is the application with the latest platform that fulfills the required needs of user. Nowadays, technology is increasing day by day for making the works of human being easier. We don't need to go anywhere for book the place we can do it by sitting at home and by just one click we can get the required services.
